

Proton Structure

The recognition and felt response to this energy - is the tear drop of the Divine mixing with dust particles of exploded star mass, combining to create a particle that falls to the Right side of the Heart. The beginnings of manifest being of the soul taking incarnation. The wound of the Heart of Love itself - is what is felt as the Eternal Compassion of the Divine. Thus Proton Structure is a fundamental building block beyond which matter ceases to exist.

In the end the Proton looks as though it is made of nothing, a sticky substance looking like glue. A Proton can be melted at a trillion degrees (by crashing an electron into it, breaking it apart into what is known as Quark Gluon Plasma) and exists in time at 10 to the -22 seconds.

As the process continues, the end of the world as we know and define it dissolves (the bits disappear there leaving no final analysis, it brings with it clouds of unknowing – the nano world). Thus since matter and time dissolve at this 10 to the -22 seconds, this is the point where we go in and out of existence. A point of continual creation and dissolution, where the infinitely small meets the infinitely large (the Aleph Point, the point of Enlightenment).

Aleph Point

This is the moment of creation. This is the mystery itself. Thus the tear drop of the Divine combines with the dust of cosmic particles – creating the gluey particle – quark. The proton is seen as the positive force – or male consciousness.

Proton Colour Lightning

As I witnessed Jessa O' My Heart becoming this energy, ancient scribbles were revealed. I saw and understood this energy as the Brush of God – the Hand of God Brushed a stroke and the Creation was made.

I felt this fundamental energy to be that of very Creation itself and thus lies the Word, and the world was made flesh.

As it is witnessed there exists:

- the Luminous or Light or A-Cosmic
- the Nominal - Word - Pre-Cosmic
- the Phenomenal - Manifestation – Cosmic

That which says the Word allows the Light from the A-Cosmic to create or manifest that which we can witness in the Cosmic or manifest Existence.

Colour Magnetic

Within the sub-atomic structures within Protons, a world exists called Quantum-Chromo Dynamics, and there exists a dimension called the colour dimension. Hence these energies are from these structures.

When feeling this energy, I witnessed the magnetic current turn away from the downward spiral and begin rotating horizontally. Thus this energy is beginning to move the energetics away from the gravity of the mortal downward spiral, toward the horizontal, or causal, or Heart dimension.

Colour Electric

This being the sub-atomic structure of the electric field within the Proton. Holding this current, attention shifts beyond the downward spiral of the mortal coil and begins at the feet as an upward spiral. So it is reversing the current to restore attention to the Infinite form of Enlightenment, beyond the sleep of the mortal dream.

Neutron

Neutron, or neutral energy, i.e. neither the + proton, or male force of Consciousness, nor the – electron, or feminine force, or actualiser. The neutron is neutral, thus it is beyond + or – , beyond male or female, thus beyond all duality.

The vision that was witnessed was the Sacrifice or Cross of Christ, and the felt response was that of perfect submission. Thus this energy is about perfect submission of the Body as Love – yielded to one's existence, neither moving to the left nor right, neither assuming male nor female, living as the already submitted form of Eternal Life. Thus the true beginnings of the Immortal Form.

Submission=Life of Sacrifice, thus Confessed as Happiness (Beyond action and reaction)

The Neutron thus is the perfection of the dissolution of Separative Self, which can only exist in the creation of dualities. (The moment of separation and identification with the separative one is the moment of recoil from Perfect Submission. The separative one is the disposition of forgetfulness, and thus through fear is driven into the separative position of male - female, left - right, in - out, self and other. Which is the knot of fear of mortal form.) Thus the energy of Neutron brings us to the reawakening of Remembrance to the Truth of us as our Eternal Form, beyond all dualities, into the Recognition that Only God stands out.

Electron

The Electron is the very active energy, the birthing current, the actualiser, the feminine creative force that combines with the dust particle of the Proton Structure to bring forth manifest existence. Thus this energy of Electron is the very active principle of Creation itself.

East Neutron

Bring the East or renewing energy and combine it with the Neutron. In the witnessing, this reveals the vision of the Divine Finger Resting on one point. That point is the Self Point on the Right side of the Heart – the terminal point of the universe, the point the Divine enters the soul. Thus this energy is affecting the Whole Body by the touch of God, and by this touch, initiating the Remembrance of the Heart's Recognition of Love.

West Neutron

This energy, moving into relationship with the submitted disposition of the Neutron, appears as the elimination of what is witnessed as the Shadow World. (The Shadow World is the world that has grown out of the fear of separation, and a life only lived in forgetfulness. Thus the Shadow World is equivalent to a world of identification with mortal form). West Neutron as an energy specifically releases us from the shadow of our own forgetting, and restores us to that which is Prior and Eternal.

North and South Neutron

As witnessed, the South representing the unconsciousness below, when combined with Neutron, becomes an energy of Radiant Light exploding downward, into what is obviously the Spider Realm that takes hold in that unconscious space. Thus the Spider is out of unconsciousness.

The North, combining with the Neutron, exploding upward, returning attention to the God Light, almost appears in the witnessing as the resurrection of the form, from the position of being bowed over into unconscious life, to the free standing, stretched out position and resurrection of Consciousness into Eternal Life.

Minus North, South, East and West Energies

Minus refers to all of the Cross in its whole form – vertical and horizontal planes – of the Neutron, and then minusing one aspect at a time. So, minusing the North wing, the West Wing, the South Wing and the East wing, one at a time.

- North Neutron

Minusing the North wing of the Cross of the Neutron forces the Radiant energy to explode below into the female position or extended body form. Thus bringing conscious Light into the body. The ultimate function is whole body Enlightenment.

- South Neutron

Minusing the South wing of the Cross held within the Neutron, this is the alchymeic process of awakening penetrating Consciousness, or the male aspect. In the witnessing, when minusing the South, the unconscious energy of below, or the spider realms, are made non-existent. The energy explodes upwards from the horizontal above to the highest point, forcing the Radiant Light, and thus attention, to move infinitely above.

Minus East and Minus West energies still to be released.

- West Neutron

As the vision appears, the Hand of the Divine takes hold of a Rod. This Rod, being the symbol of Darkness, is plunged into the ground. In doing so, the vision reveals Darkness being transmuted into Light. In the witnessing, it reveals that the Divine embraces and consumes all that is Dark, thus revealing that in moving beyond fearful reaction to Darkness, the alchymie of transmutation occurs, with the all-embracing Hand of God transforming Dark into Light.

- East Neutron

In the witnessing, - East, the East of the Neutron, forces the awakening beyond death and decay.

N.B. In the combinatorial matter of all of these energies is the dissolution of male-female, high-low, left-right, thus overwhelming the entire separative disposition, and initiating the awakening of the whole body-mind into the Radiance whole bodily of Only God.

Zero Neutron

Zero Neutron in the witnessing refers to the point before, or prior to, all suffering (i.e. where there is no Cross of Existence). Here Zero represents the minusing of all east, west, north and south aspects of the Cross – the Zero Point, that no longer requires the incarnating pressure of Existence. Zero Neutron then is a Porthole, or the Doorway itself, the moment before Existence is necessary. Thus it is equivalent to Perfect Transcendence, where attention is no longer bound, or drawn into, that which is below, above, side to side. Perfectly already dissolved into Only God.

Anti-Screen Quark

Quark – refer to Proton Structure for description of this substance.

Anti-Screen Quark – this energy makes the energy of quarks more intense. In witnessing, the vision appears that a cosmic screen comes up and thus begins to break the disinterest of particles toward manifestation, or the creation of the soul. What was realisable in this witnessing, is that the Universe has to be made to accept the pattern of manifestation, and this requires a great deal of energy. So within the Infinite space, there has to be a Divine moment that forces all particles to hold the pattern for manifest existence.

Virtual Quark

The Vision appears of a machine that attracts particles (cosmic dust) by a vibrational attraction, drawing them to a point of manifestation, thus this energy appears as a machine of Manifestation.

Gravity Lens

Seen as a dimensional doorway beyond the pull of gravity – allows attention to be drawn up toward transcendence.

Anti-Gravity Reflex

This energy is to assist in the lifting, not only of attention, but also of the entire mass of body structure, beyond the pull of the gravity of mortal form. To merely suffer gravity is to be pulled into the grave of ordinary life.

The actual anti-gravity reflex is something that we all have at the beginning of our lives. Over time and in time, the spring in our step, the lightness of being, begins to decline. Thus this energy is to help us re-establish this reflex and bring us once again to feel the capacity to step lightly, to be renewed and uplifted, that we may feel the bounce back in our step. (The great secret of Mohammed Ali and his capacity to outshine all others in his field of boxing, was to develop his anti-gravity reflex, and thus have dancing feet that no one could meet).

Colour of Saying

This energy depicted and was witnessed as the sound of the vibrational current of the angelic realm, lifting us, calling us, thus allowing attention to move and remember that which is above and beyond.

Pomeron

This energy reflects the forcing within manifest form to allow the Current toward Radiant light thus directing and forcing the body, the substance of existence, to be forced into the Current of Eternal Life.

Reggeized Gluon

Fire electrons into protons and thus create an atomic cloud. In the witnessing, this cloud represented the cloud of doubt, which arises out of the contracted brain-mind of mortal form (The atomic bomb of Hiroshima represents doubt of mind). Thus in the witnessing of Reggeized Gluon, it was seen to allow three lines of Radiant light – the Trinity – entering the atomic cloud and exploding through it to create a doorway or opening, and thus movement beyond doubt.

Reggeons

Appears as a line forming a space in the universe – aids in getting the universe to accept a new shape.

SAPS

Sub Atomic Particle Structures - organising themselves into optimal positions. Thus using this with energies such as the Maha Mantra would be optimising the Maha Mantra into the optimal point of perfect alignment to the infinite current.

Earth Works

The four points, creating the structure of the Cross, energetically optimising all the workings of the earth structure, i.e. the earth's movements of quakes, tidal waves, volcanic movement etc. and creating an energetics from that workings that would be of real service as a healing agency. As you can feel in a moment, this energy has an enormous consequence when we inspect the ferocity of its components.

Earth Quake Lightning

During earthquakes, lightning can be released with great intensity as the body or earth movement is under profound pressure. The alchymised energetics of such lightning produces an intense Radiant strike of energy through the body of existence as the world, the earth, represents the body form

Solar Magnetic Loops

Structures of the Sun accelerate protons through the Earth's field. This energy when felt is a means of allowing intense movement around the awakening of the Conscious Mind, allowing a Higher Conscious Form to be realised. A spiralling current is felt as a manifesting form, opening through the top and beyond the brain-mind, taking it way beyond its cramped position.

Life-Force Arrow

The Life-Force Circle and Life-Force Arrow are both yogic currents. The Circle being the reception of Divine current as Light down through the top of the head, down through the spine, around the front, and returning upward toward the God Light, completing the circle of current through the being, unbroken, and returning to the God Light.

The Arrow being the direct root of the current shooting upward through the bodily base, through the spine, returning to the Divine without having to go through the circle – a much more intense, much more direct arrow of return to the God Light.

Both are the refinement of being alive as whole-body conductivity. With the usual disposition, the life current comes down the back and explodes out the frontal line, and doesn't return to the God Light. These energies are literally about the enhancement of conductivity, enabling us to return to the fullness of the yogic current.

Life-Force Circle

Quantum Dots

Dots that create molecular boxes, that hold handfuls of electrons. This energy optimises the number of electrons held within the box. This in turn increases the actualising process, or birthing process, that is held within the field of the electron. Thus Quantum Dots accelerates electrons into actualisation.

Quantum Dots Super Conductance

Quantum Dots Super Conductance allows the dots to become directional. Thus we can then experience specific intensification or manifestation at the area most requiring actualisation.

Causal Concomitant

Causal Concomitant is a transformer – this energy relates to the causal dimension as action, the causal dimension is superior to the subtle and gross. In the witnessing of this energy, the causal action is seen to penetrate the gross and subtle mass, which is karmically bound action. In other words, that the Divine enters the actions and draws us beyond the karmic action to our enlightened action, thus penetrating the entire karmic destiny which would otherwise bind us with all its limited actions.

Slow Gold

The alchymised essence of Gold is strength, is the purity of the Divine Form. Slow Gold takes it beyond space and time. Thus combining these energies, Slow Gold creates the Divine Space and holds it beyond time and space, thus creates and enhances the Heart of Space.

Slow Chromium

Specifically, chromium is used in the assimilation of all sugars, and all sugar absorption functions within the body. It is given as a supplement for diabetic and hypoglycemic conditions. It is an essential component within vitamin B formulae – B without the chromium isn't available for assimilation.

Light Metals

Light metals are elemental forms – the first particles, the essential building blocks for the chemicals of the body. They are the first moments of interaction between the proton, electron and neutron. Thus they are the first actualised form of created manifestation. These are energetically held within the Light Metals vial (Sodium, Cadmium, Magnesium, Copper, Iron, Zinc, Potassium etc), and can be called upon specifically when required.

Bugs

This energy is specifically relating to bacteria which are bigger than viruses, particularly in Asia and the Middle East, because of the dysentery, food and rubbish situations, etc. These bacteria are often suffered as we travel, and come into contact with these countries.

Pacemaker

Energetically, this vial enhances our ability to resonate with the pacemaker itself, the point at which the Divine enters on the Right Side of the Heart. Dissolving the sheer grip around the heartbeat as it identifies only with the cramp of mortal form, and allowing it to awaken to the pace of Eternal Form. Thus strengthening and allowing us to trust the eternal heartbeat or the pulse of Eternal Life.

Foxglove

Foxglove is an herbal tonic for the heart, particularly where the pulse is slow. This vial energetically s to assist the physical heart in the description of the herbal tonic, and enhancing the regulation of the heartbeat. Those that awaken to spiritual life and awaken to the Infinite Pulse or Current of the Divine, quite spontaneously and synchronistically, awaken to a slower heartbeat, beyond the grip of fear.

Hawthorn Berry

Hawthorn berries are used where there is hardening of the arteries (arteriosclerosis) and high blood pressure, they stimulate digestion and warm the heart. This energy energetically is to assist the physical functioning of the heart within this description.

Helix Nebula

This nebula looks like a giant eye, and is felt as a healing energy for the eyes, vision.

Greater Nebula in Orion

This energy deals with the blood flow through the whole body.

Trifid Nebula

This energy is a healing for the vascular system, and the peripheral blood flow, particularly around the head.

Ayurvedic Male

Based on the whole system of Ayurvedic medicine in its balanced state - bringing that knowledge and wisdom to bear whole-bodily to enhance, balance, detoxify, restore, and regenerate through that system. The Ayurvedic tradition combines certain foods, herbs, plant extracts etc., to treat specific constitution types, by balancing out excess elemental aspects to bring about a harmonious disposition. Thus, for a 'hot' or Pitta disposition (element: fire), bringing in extracts that have a cooling effect on the body, therefore reducing the chemistry of excess heat or fire. For the 'slow' or Kapha type (elements: earth and water), extracts to energise and vitalise, speed up metabolism etc. would be applied; and for the 'spacey' or Vata type (elements: air and ether), where irregularity and dryness are the key defining characteristics, grounding and stabilising energetics would be employed to balance the constitution. Thus wherever the imbalance lies within our own form, we can intentionalise with this energy a restoration, and thus be lifted beyond the limitations that these constitutions represent.

Ayurvedic Female

Deadly Nightshades

Nightshades are a plant species that includes belladonna, tomatoes, capsicums. Deadly Nightshades is energetically dealing with the effects of the deadly nitrates on the body within the deadly nightshades plant species. These are particularly acid-producing in the body, and are therefore deleterious to conditions such as arthritis. This vial is therefore transmuting the negative effects of these plant species in the body.

Red-Back Spider Elixir

The Red-Back energy appeared when witnessing the unconscious disposition where one would remain hidden and shy and yet intensely afraid, but under provocation, its poison was deadly. Hence Red-Back Spider, one of Australia's top ten deadliest spiders.

Trapdoor Spider Elixir

Again witnessing the disposition where the spider takes hold in the unconscious, this disposition reflects in the nature of this spider, which is to create a way of trapping its prey and drawing it into the hidden doorway that covers the hole of its trap. In other words, the unexpected hidden trap that catches and then overwhelms its prey – its all-embracing fear paralyses its victim. This disposition can be witnessed in the human form where people draw others, in their determination and protection of self, into their own hidden, unconscious, aberrated states. Thus trying to draw all things into the disposition of fear. People who get drawn into such spaces are generally naive, unaccountable, and unconscious, and thus available to be overwhelmed by such poison.

In the witnessing, it was seen that the Doorway to Hell literally had the Trapdoor Spider over it, sucking people in, through their sympathetic unconscious movement, into the hellish emotions of the untransformed, where fear is clung to as the essence of existence, and love is forgotten here. The Spider became more active as we began to move through these Doorways within the world. Again, the reflection of more people either sympathetically moving against the Light, or the liberation of people beginning to move out of Hell.

Tarantula Nebula

La Luna

La Luna refers to the Earth's moon – because it is such an up-close, significant matter in the mind of humans, usually reflecting the romantic disposition. In the witnessing, some of the mysteries of this world seem to be reflected in the moon, e.g. the Bermuda Triangle, the unfathomableness that takes man beyond the rational mind. Thus these energies are useful in drawing attention beyond the limited consciousness of conventional form.

At the level of the body, La Luna appears to have a detoxifying effect, particularly on the absorption capacities of sugars within the body energetically.

Each of these planets have different qualities, Saturn – responsibility, restraint, conservation; Jupiter – expansion and growth, gifts; Pluto – death, control; Uranus – intuition, independence; Mars – war, aggression, ambition; Neptune – mysticism, inspiration.

La Luna – Saturn

La Luna – Jupiter

La Luna – Pluto

La Luna - Uranus

La Luna – Mars

La Luna – Neptune

Coral Calcium

The body uses calcium to neutralise acid - many diseases live and thrive in acidic environments. If you are not receiving an adequate supply of calcium in your daily intake, the body will begin to take it from the other bodily fluids. Once they have been drained of calcium, the body will begin to strip the bones, in order to deal with the excessive acidity levels. Coral Calcium has a neutralising effect on the body – it neutralises acidity and restores the body's Ph levels to balance, thus relieving pain. It also neutralises waste products in water. The energetics of this vial is the optimised alchymeic form of Coral Calcium.

Rune Wizard

Rune Wizard is based on the sacred stones of the Runes, and all of the symbols of the Runes are held within this Wizard. For those who know the ancient art of rune reading, can all through any of the particular stones for reflection.

Ultra-Tech Wizard

The inspiration for this energy was the witnessing of sophisticated technical know-how that human beings were being subjected to from subtle dimensions, that had alien implication. Even in relation to this gross physical world, if we were to call, e.g. “Ultra-Tech Wizard Bill Gates”, then all of the weird technologies that may be implemented toward humans, even through our television sets, could be transmuted. Thus this energy could also be used, say, in relation to other Wizards, e.g. the Allopathic Wizard. If we were to engage both these energies together, and ask for the Ultra-Technology of the Allopathic Wizard in relation to, say, the heart, we would then be able to witness advanced technologies being employed to improve heart functioning. Basically this energy is about meeting that which is starting to outwit us at an energetic level, both within the gross and subtle dimensions of our form.

Combinatorial Solar Actinide Zombie

This energy is to deal with the enormous density locked within the unconscious structure of the conventional form. It is based on heavy radioactive metals - actinide refers to a group of the most dense elemental forms. Energetically, the light beginning to penetrate even the densest of substances within this Earth structure. Therefore moving the conventional form and breaking it now to begin to activate the process of conductivity. (Conductivity is the process of reception and release of the Infinite Current, awakening the mortal structure to its true capacity of Divine Enlightenment.)

A.D.D. Elixir

Standing for Attention Deficit Disorder, energetically in the witnessing what appears as a neural cross-wiring effect in the brain, a kind of wrong wiring in energetical terms leads to the psychically aberrated state at the level of gross physical. Whilst this in a few cases may be specific, for the most part, this energy is useful in all cases for the literal focusing of scattered attention. For example, when considering childhood matters within a workshop, A.D.D energetically was useful for all present to help focus attention on the unconscious, out-of-control energetics displayed in everyone present during their childhood period, thus helping to bring penetrating consciousness to this aspect of transformation within the consciousness of the individuals present.

Psychic Field Stress

Energetically, this energy deals with the total pressure that is the consequence of living in a world where those present are irresponsible at the level of their whole-body communication as a felt matter. For the untransformed, the process of conductivity remains beyond their comprehension, thus their responsibility in relation to their own bodily form being minimal, makes them available to a total subtle intrusive energetics that can be profoundly disturbing. This energy is to support those who are truly beginning to become conscious at the level of whole body conductivity, to be able to move more freely in a world that is not yet supportive of the Radiant Light of Divine Communion.

Future Future

This energy relates to the terror and concern that arises out of our projection into the unknown, the uncertainty, the mystery, of what is to come. When the grip of fear overwhelms the Heart of Love, one draws the lessons to oneself to have this fear understood. Thus Future Future is the gift of enabling us to learn to trust in a greater process, that Grace is operative, and to cling to that recognition and release into the infinitely unknowable matter of the Living Divine.

In learning such trust, the karmic lessons begin to be dissolved prior to their manifestation at the level of the gross physical life.

Glucose Browning

Being alive in this human physical form, has a 'Catch 22' liability, in that for every in-breath, in order to maintain life, we receive oxygen (oxygen is required to initiate the conversion process of sugars, which provides nourishment of the blood to carry). As one knows, pure oxygen creates fire, so for every in-breath, to stay alive costs us. We begin to burn, or age, the flesh form. This process is unavoidable, if one is to maintain life at all. Thus energetically, this vial is to enhance in slowing the consequence of such an essential process to enable us the time that is essential, if we are to pass through the process of whole body transformation in Consciousness with this lifetime. May it be so.

Rusting

Anti-oxidants are elemental forms that inhibit oxidation in the body – i.e. the reactions promoted by the intake of oxygen. One of the functions of anti-oxidants is to help slow down the degradation of foods, particularly fats. This energy is to assist us by enhancing the process of anti-oxidant functioning within the gross physical form.

Immune System

Energetically, this vial is to enhance and strengthen the immunity of our bodily form, by allowing the Radiant Light of the Divine to strengthen us, beyond the mere human capacity that we would be subjected to otherwise. To receive and allow the conductivity of Radiant Light, lifts us to levels that stand prior to the usual suffering we are subjected to, in a world that has only forgotten the true possibility of the Divine entering whole bodily into this world.

Chaos Sweeper

Out of Jessa O' My Heart's own contemplation, it came out of a dream state. A Divine Being appeared in white clothes, doing something magical or miraculous, ordering things into a special way. It appears in the witnessing of this vision, to be ordering the essential elements into a design that would accommodate a Divine structure of the Heart of Space. Without the Divine's penetrating form, chaos is the outcome, when witnessing the usual conventional disposition, being lived without discipline at the level of attention and conscious responsibility.

Metabolism

Vino Therapy Wizard

Red wine is used for skin therapy – a Free Radical Scavenger was discovered in the wine and so it would be rubbed into the skin. This energy is a chaser of Free Radicals, using the base energy as though we were consuming the red wine itself.

Bio-Dynamic Wizard

Bio-dynamics is a system of farming based on an organic fertilising preparation – Preparation 500 – that brings the life-force back into the soil, by getting the microbiology working in the soil. Unlike conventional agriculture, which is based on adding water-soluble fertiliser to soil, i.e. working on a surface level, bio-dynamics is taking the organic approach of bringing the soil to life, thereby allowing that which is grown in the soil to be a living organism, full of the life-force. Thus the energetics of this Wizard is to enhance such a process, again to assist a restoration to the earth plane, helping restore it to optimum levels for nourishment production. This vial could also be used directly on foods for their enhancement.

Mineral Collation

This energy is to enhance the dissolution of plaques that build up in the cardio vascular system through the stress chemistry that results from not only emotional conditions, but also dietary conditions and processed foods that have become a part of daily life across humanity.

Spif

HIV Elixir

Pancreas Elixir

Energetically, this vial directs current specifically to the functioning and clearing of this organ. The pancreas is the crucial organ in the entire assimilation and absorption of sugars within the body. The pancreas secretes digestive enzymes and the hormones insulin and glucagons, which regulate blood sugar levels.

Kidney Elixir

Worms

Chaotic Growth Elixir

Grains Elixir

Animal Fat Elixir

Goodbye Electro-Statics

Nerve Force

When the nerve force is weak everything is weak. The energy of this vial is to enhance the flow of current through the nervous system. Particularly in this day and age, it is common result from the amount of stress one endures, to suffer a weakening of the amount of nerve force that we are able to generate. Under this level of stress, ordinary matters can become overwhelming, even our capacity to be able to use and program the amount of machinery that is commonly operative in our daily environment become stressful. Women during menstruation also suffer from the loss of nerve force that would provide them with a greater capacity to deal with ordinary existence. Hence this energy is the gift of allowing us to feel again a strengthening current, to aid us in being able to find the capacity at the level of the nervous system.

H.E.L.P. Elixir

T.Cells Elixir

T-Cells are needed to build up white cells. In A.I.D.S. and Hepatitis C, the T-Cell count is constantly monitored; in transplants, T-Cell shock can occur, where the T-Cells of the donor are rejected (the T-Cells come from the donor's bone marrow). Thus energetically this vial is directing the Divine current specifically to enhance a strengthening and transmutation of all the implication that this condition may result in.

Breast Chaos Elixir

Cholesterol Elixir

Small Intestine Elixir

Large Intestine Elixir

Nano Tube Nutritional Pump

Vagus Nerve Elixir

Blood Flow Spinal Cord

Autonomous Nervous System Elixir

Parasympathetic Nervous System Elixir

Sympathetic Nervous System Elixir

Right Pump Failure Elixir

Reverse Transcriptase

The enzyme that is used in genetic engineering that can transmute RNA to double-stranded DNA. It throws off old rubbish, makes retro viruses retro. Energetically this vial is designed specifically to hold the intention of this process and thus is useful to allow the Divine Current into the entire process of dealing with such a matter within our own forms.

Retro Viruses

Sexual Attractiveness

To allow the whole body to yield to the penetrative force of Consciousness.

Projection of Death

The activity of negative thinking, and projecting negativity onto ‘others’ and the world, is a ‘death projection’ – literally creating a blackness, or a cramp in the body and thus the world. Projection of Death reveals this activity and lifts us beyond the disposition of such negative projection of mind.

Body Plaques as Death

The ‘projection of death’ can lead to the creation of plaques in the body. Thus this energy is felt to locate and lift the plaques i.e. the death, out of the body.

Eternal Spiral of Sound and Light

Cholesterol

Energetically this represents negative cholesterol vibration. Interacts with Free Radicals and cholesterol in the body that deteriorate the tissue (Free Radicals are a negative influence).

Venous Treatment Allopathic Wizard

The energetics of this vial is to enhance the cleaning out of the venous system around the heart specifically. When using this specific Allopathic Wizard one can call energetically the latest technologies that are being used, e.g. venous injection, to allow the Divine Radiance to enter specifically for the enhancement of the heart and its surrounds.

SIS

Small Intestine Sub Mucosa . This energy is to assist in allowing the Radiance of the Divine Current to be used directly in relation to deep tissue cuts.

Ants

Inspired by red ants appearing in Australia. Their mounds are high on the ground and their bite is worse than any other ant – it is repetitive, and impossible to eradicate. The repetitive bite is equivalent to a bee sting. Using the vial, call the specific variety of ant. This vial is to aid in the poisonous intrusion of any energetic ‘sting’ at the level of life.

Miranda Ray

Miranda Ray is an energy used to reflect all that is hidden and minded, trying to destroy the Divine Presence. These destructive forces were seen as alien and shadow forms, during the period when Jessa O’ My Heart was breaking open the direct passage between Heaven and Earth. As I witnessed Him pass through this shocking ordeal, I could see that there were dimensions much higher than the ordinary subtle. I saw warring dimensions in the Higher Subtle, existing as a layer within the Cosmic Mandala, that prevent attention from rising. Miranda Ray is the energetics and gift of allowing a greater passage through the subtle dimensions, above and beyond the level of contracted mind, allowing us free passage of attention to begin to lift now free of the intrusion of that which would only desire to prevent such a matter from occurring.

Absolute Zero Ray

At minus 273 degrees all matter ceases to exist. This is Absolute Zero. The point at which life and death are one. At this point, Real Life begins. The mystery itself. Energetically, this vial is to freeze out all that would obstruct one's true capacity to awaken to the infinite matter that exists beyond life and death.

Nano Tube Vacuum Eliminator

Out of the nano world, the infinitely small, using the technology of such a space energetically as a vacuum cleaner within the physical structure, to eliminate levels of toxicity, psychically and physically.

Blood Curdling

One of the newly-revealed problems incurred with frequent flying is the development of deep thrombosis in the veins, due to the lack of movement from sitting for extended periods of time. There have been incidents of where people have developed blood clots and died. This vial again is to allow the Divine Radiance to be brought to bear on such a matter, as to enhance the chemical stress bodily in such a situation, lifting us again beyond the mere suffering that such a matter would create.

Gravity Waves

This energy is to lift us beyond the push and pull of the effect of gravity itself upon the mortal form. As we begin to move into Conscious responsibility, or that state which stands prior to the comings and goings of ordinary life, literally we are released from the implication that such waves create upon the conventional form.

Super Nuclear Tracker

This energy was created to locate and find intrusions that lay within dimensions not yet touched, as Jessa O' My Heart's form passed through the profound process of awakening into the eternal structure of Heaven and Earth becoming one. Therefore Super Nuclear Tracker, as revealed in workshops, was a great tool in locating traumas locked within consciousness, coming from lifetimes beyond conscious memory. Finding these points of contraction that lay buried within the subconscious, allows the patterns of existence that have been thus created as a reaction to begin to be witnessed and dissolved.

Tangles and Knots Wizard

Based of higher mathematical terms – The Tangled Theory perceives that the entire universe is made up of a mass of tangles and knots. Everything tends to tangle and knot. In our own ordinary existence, we witness this at the level of our hair, jewellery, clothing. This chaos theory is one such theory that holds within it a description even down to the DNA itself, thus this energy - Tangles and Knots Wizard is simply the disentanglement – emotionally, mentally and physically– of all of the complications that our born condition has held within it. This can be used energetically for the entire karmic matter that brings us into this born moment.

Doorway to Heaven

Doorway to Hell

Human Growth Hormone

The alchymie of Gold used within this vial allows for the Divine Hand, the touch that enhances the true growth and equanimity that such a system would require, in order to move through into the chemistry of Enlightenment.

Protozoans

This energy is dealing with the fact that such bugs exist and take hold at the gross physical level, as for example malaria (half of the people who have ever died, died of malaria). These bugs exist particularly in the gullet and have a profound immunity to allopathic medicines. A lot of times they remain undetectable form the usual diagnostic methods of allopathic medicines. Energetically, this vial is specifically designed to locate and transmute such hidden conditions that affect whole body equanimity due to the deleterious effects that protozoans have.

Pump Up The Volume

Muscle Building Steroids.

PPS Elixir

Protists Protein Synthesisers Elixir. Proteins are an environment for cells, cells float in protein. Over time, tissue breaks down and can't renew itself, the heart etc. doesn't renew. The energy of PPS Elixir is to enhance and assist in allowing cell tissue to be renewable. Thus the energetics of this vial is rejuvenation, and allowing the Divine Radiance in to penetrate the specific intention of creating a greater integrity for the cell environment.

Body Plaques Cardio Vascular System

Body Plaques Nervous System

The nervous system can develop plaques (build up around the brain), which can be a cause for Alzheimer's – a thick coating over the brain.

Constipation Elixir

For all matters of constipation, this energy is about the 'unplugging' of all stuckness, whether it be physical, mental, emotional, or environmental, allowing the greater flow.

Blue Pearl Healer

The ultimate experience held within Siddha Yoga is to obtain the Blue Pearl Experience. Energetically, this vial is using that moment of whole body transcendence into the Blissful Current, as a healing tool that can be directed toward whatever area one requires, and thus be touched with the Bliss of Only God.

Blue Gold and Emerald Spiral Galaxy

The swirls of cosmic energy filled with the colour of enlightened form, dances and weaves its way as a spiralling restorative current whole-bodily, lifting us into the renewed current of cosmic refreshment.

Vortex Elixir

Inert Gases

Philosopher's Stone

The Alchemist's secrets – of how the process of transmutation, of turning the rock into the gold of Enlightenment, is held within the Philosopher's Stone. The clarity of this vial now allows for a greater matter of intensity to be revealed at the level of the gross physical world. More is given to enable a greater penetration of a structure that ultimately is being worked to have this total alchymie take hold here. The Divine will have its way in this world, and the time is now.

Polarisation

“Re-establishment of sexual polarity between ‘intimates’, where there is felt genuine intimacy. This adaptation may take some time, perhaps months, where this vial is used on a daily basis. We are polarised life-forms, but for the most part we function in a depolarised state in a depolarised world. The depolarised individual has no capacity for real intimacy, only an association of desire based on a ‘field’ of tensions or arising out of a field of tensions.

Polarisation helps remove the daily intrusions into couple's sexual intensity. Where there is some felt warmth, the use of this vial can produce a remarkable increase in intensity, freeing up the tension as its energy flows throughout the body. This therefore restores polarity (at least to some degree) moving more deeply over time as individuals come to ‘know’ and ‘understand’ what polarisation is, what feeling polarised amounts to, and how to maintain the energy of the being as a polarised life-form.

The essence of this vial is about preserving and building the polarised energy between a couple whether there is sexual activity or otherwise. This energy acts to clear us of many aspects of our daily activity that come to depolarise us (e.g. casual mixing of the sexes, stress, contraction of the brain-mind in the thinking frenzy).

(Jessa O' My Heart, The Chone Letters)

The colour of this vial being red-black, represents an intensification and deeper penetration of this energy now.

Transitioning

“In our involvement with this earthly vision we are presented with multi-dimensions that are accessed through transitional phases. The difficulty with these transitional phases is that we are seriously transformed and perhaps overwhelmed into forgetfulness of what proceeded the transition and so we fail to learn what it is that we are actually involved with in our association with this realm. This energy of Transitioning holds us in the Remembrance of the Truth of us that underlies all Transitionings. If we fail to fall into this Remembrance we simply remain through a day to day, life to life role as an unconscious sacrifice served up on the table for lunch.”

Big Black Hole Soak

Up until now, this energy has been held within the water, it has now been brought into the energetics as a vial to allow it to be a useful tool in the service of others. As one of the greatest deleterious effects of being unaccountable, in a world that has not yet awoken to living as a responsible matter for the conductivity of the Infinite Current, is to become like blotters, absorbing all the shadow of unconsciousness and thus suffering an overwhelming sponging of that which is beyond the individual’s capacity to deal with.

Hemlock

Again, having been a water, being brought now into a stage of beginning to deal with it as a matter of service to others, specifically the energetics of dealing with the poisonous communication that we receive on a daily basis, from all who are simply ruled in their unconsciousness by their overwhelming aberrated emotions, that they have not yet grown to take responsibility for. Thus the poisonous communication affects us bodily as directed anger, fear, sorrow, and all of that which is less than love becomes our daily meal.

Senescence

“The Robert Browning poem, Rabbi Ben Ezra (Youth and Age) which says at its onset,

“Grow old with me

The best is yet to be...”

And this, no matter how lauded by poetry lovers, would seem to be the romantic ramblings of a deranged mind for those beset with any number of degenerative functional disorders and pushed aside by a world of the young in their headlong rush toward their own ruin into a desolate world of television reruns of I Love Lucy. Most of us faced with mounting numbers of painful wrinkles of time can only exclaim from the chair of our wreckage “Old age has nothing to recommend it!” Further there is an irony to the poem, Rabbi Ben Ezra and this is the author’s name Browning since one of the progenitors of the painful dysfunctions of growing old is glucose browning which is the unfortunate propensity of the body to literally cook at blood temperature. With a name like Browning there is little doubt that Robert became thoroughly “browned off” with old age toward the end.

The search for a 'cure' to the aging process that those of us who live long enough must surely endure has been a major preoccupation of humanity since we had time to consider such things. Yet most of us simply drift unerringly and unthinkingly into the destiny that awaits us. The song writer Irving Berlin when he was some ninety-eight years old said, "If I had known I was going to live so long I would have taken better care of myself." What could have been done during such a passage of time anyway? Could we eat better? Could we exercise more regularly? Stay out of the sun? Whilst these aspects do affect the quality of life we enjoy up to a certain age, it seems there is nothing we can do to prevent aging. In fact it is difficult to be clear as to what aging is and how fast it is taking place for any given individual or why it is happening since human cells can apparently live indefinitely. There is a circumspect (but reductionist) view of molecular biologists which intimates that we are suffering a trade off by 'nature' between reproduction and survival or that we are sailing into a Sargasso sea of ruinous mutant genes that create a mounting disarray across every level of our structural existence. There are many structural considerations no doubt from oxidation to glucose browning and so on. Yet while the erstwhile molecular biologist sees the onset of diseases and aging as somehow imperfect, from the point of view of karma only perfection is seen, since we are only encountering what we 'deserve' in this Bardo world of promise we call "Home Sweet Home." Thus our particular Pop-Up story is the destiny of our born being as long as that destiny remains necessary. The destiny remains necessary as long as we are focused on trying to 'save' this little 'self' from becoming "ashes to ashes, dust to dust." We are lifted out of the grosser nasties of our destiny by awakening as a Conscious Sacrifice into the Mystery of us. In any case, the world is void of self-nature and we need to realise this at last and then the Blessing of existence may descend upon that dependent event that is 'us'.

The products of Infinity can aid in the dissolution of our karmas, our sin can be forgiven, but we must truly change what it is that we are up to and stop moving out of fear, and trust that our footsteps will alight somewhere even if we do not know where. All of the structural aspects that the molecular biologists inform us of can be dealt with by the Senescence energy to the point that for some, the aging process can be slowed, perhaps stopped, perhaps reversed. However, what can be seen by this is that aging is only loosely linked to longevity. So, what we require of the structure is that it remains healthy until death do us part. Only those truly engaged in transcending the dream of existence may require a long and healthy life. The image of a two hundred year old surfer still trundling to the sea in search of the elusive sinusoidal orgasm is a problem that not even the 'usual' mediocre personality needs. We are indeed fortunate that most of the dreadful personalities that are here for a time take their leave of us as quickly as they do. What a howdy-do if they did not. Thank God everyone who has ever lived has died."

Nitric Oxide Nervous System

Cat's Eye Nebula

Virus Mandala

Solar Rotation

This energy deals with transformations of all kinds. The sun rotates once every 11 years.

Metal

Exquisite Sharpness

R.R. Elixir

Energetically, this energy assists to support all in severe and present trauma, physically, emotionally and mentally. This energy is designed so that one may be able to assist even an accident that may occur within your field that you may simply be witness to, by directing the energy of this wand and asking for the blessing for all those present, entangled within that moment, to be touched, to be lifted, to be healed by the Hand of God at the mere contemplation.

Potentising Puja

Stonehenge

High Altitude Radiation

To assist in the radiation that has been known to be a part of all flight for many, many years, but held a secret. The mere fact of flying at that altitude exposes us to levels of radiation that are equivalent to being an area of an atomic work station, thus a lot of secret files were withheld from employees working in such positions, the consequence of which has left many with the effects of chaotic destruction of cellular tissue, one would expect in a radiation zone.

Mitochondrial DNA

Hardy

Energetically dealing with the health of the physical eye, specifically relating to such disease that ultimately manifests in conditions such as Glaucoma.

Extra Cellular Matrix

The term extra cellular matrix refers to the space between the cells. When accumulated toxins in the body overwhelm the body's ability to eliminate, the excess waste matter spills into this space between the cells as a form of 'temporary storage'. It is important that the extra cellular matrix remains clear of toxicity, because it is in this space that active substances interact with sympathetic and parasympathetic nerve endings. Here in this space, subtle electrical currents create a communication network between the nervous and endocrine systems (hormone production). If the extra cellular matrix is blocked, the subtle communication is blocked, which affects energy levels and body functioning.

So this vial is to energetically bring the Divine current specifically to come to bear on such an environment.

Chiropractic Wizard

Chiropractic is a system of therapy which holds that disease results from a lack of normal nerve function, and which employs manipulation and specific adjustments of the body structures, such as the spinal column. Thus the Chiropractic Wizard energetically is to enhance all levels at which the body needs assistance at a chiropractic level. So whether simply holding the wand helps shift blockages specifically in relation to different parts of the spinal column, or whether the wand is used in the presence of a chiropractic practitioner asking again for the Divine Radiance to enter the moment of treatment.

Spectral Minimal Cut Puja

Spectral Theorem Geometry. A cut that makes things infinitely small across a sphere. Thus combining this energetics with the puja energy— puja being the clearing, is designed to shrink everything held within that space to infinitesimally small point, therefore transmuting shadow out of sight.

Triple Heater

Triple Heater is based on the yogic capacity to be able to generate sufficient heat within the body energetically to withstand extreme conditions that may be an environmental consequence, such as extreme cold. Yogis have the capacity to be able to be naked in midst of ice states. Thus this energy is about allowing the body to discover its own capacity to produce heat, to withstand extreme cold, at a yogic level.

Management Wizard

Radiation Wizard

Super Myelin Sheath

The sheath around the spinal cord, energetically bringing direct energy for its restoration

Anti-Down

The energetics of this vial is to assist in lifting and restoring one to Real Remembrance and be again returned to God Humour, or freedom from the bondage that this forgetting can create within an individual.

Mental

Energetically, this vial is to help restore reality to those of us who may, even in limited ways, become fixed at the level of mindedness. Again helping us and restoring us to the Remembrance that relational existence is the only way.

Awakenings

The inertial quality that some of us suffer could almost be seen and felt, if brought to its exaggerated conclusion, as the medical condition of catatonia. Energetically, this vial is to initiate more spontaneous flow of current that allows us to enjoy more freedom, beyond the stagnancy that living a life without conductivity results in.
