

Fourth Threshold Pack

Alchymie

“As above so below”. This energy refers to the actual process of the working of these two aspects, as stone to gold. The process of the transformation of the usual chemistry to the chemistry of enlightenment is a working that requires fire, heat, pressure and the awakening through spiritual crisis. Hence the ‘Alchymie’ of such a matter is held within this Vial.

Alkahest

‘Alkahest’ is referring here to the actual Alchymeic universal solvent. In the witnessing the vision appeared of blue flames resting on the crown of the head and above. It appeared as the literal burn of what was required for the transformation of higher mind. Whilst witnessing, the smell of sulphur occurred, producing what appeared to be almost like a chemical burn in the subtle.

Bath of Stars

This refers to the Philosopher’s work, i.e. transformation - the principle of the activating and energizing of the enlightenment process at a cellular level. The philosopher here refers to the Alchymist - the True form, whose inherent disposition is love, as opposed to the ordinary philosopher whose disposition is based on doubt of love.

Celestial Dew

The vision appears of beads of water from the heavens. Each bead is reminding me of the teardrops of the Divine, each bead is a bead of the essence of Love itself. The energetics of ‘Celestial Dew’ is perfect nourishment.

Green Lion

When witnessing this energy an Alchymeic explosion appeared to occur, throwing off black debris that could be understood as the fixity of the usual structure.

Herb of Saturn

A taste of enlightenment. The vibratory current of the ‘Herb of Saturn’ is to receive and taste of the enlightened form.

Mercurial Vinegar

The energy of purified mercury, added to philosophical water gives you the prima materia to begin the initial process. The vinegar is the bitter - bringing the bitter with the sweet allows the true mixing.

Philosophical Mercury

A field of silver liquid appeared. Its Alchymeic Intention was transformative and strengthening. Its purpose in the process of assisting the movement from primitivism toward a more evolved state, purifying the metallic nature of the world and their residues.

Philosophical Sulphur

The Alchymeic process is about getting a balance between the fixed and the volatile. This Vial related particularly to the purification of metal deposits within the philosophical body. Metal is about flexibility and adaptability. In the witnessing, the smell and taste of sulphur appeared as the entire form ignited into yellow flames – the dissolution of impurities became obvious as the effect.

Philosophical Water

In the witnessing the vision of water in its Divine state was felt and seen as a greater field, translucent in appearance. Its Alchymeic Intention was the cleansing and dissolving of the fixity of the gross physical. A heart shape appeared in the center and I understood it to be a baptism of being, a rebirth into the Divine form.

Prima Materia

This energy is in relation to the primary material of transformation; therefore it refers here to the transformation of the body at a cellular level, i.e. the philosophical body. The process of transformation required as we move from the chemistry of stress to the chemistry of enlightenment almost appears within the witnessing at the subtle as solid to liquid light, or the dissolution of the fixed structure created around the persona of ordinary identification. This ultimately must move toward the fluidity of eternal life.

Red Lion

In the witnessing the vision appeared of the lower coil. The lower coil is ignited and made active by the use of a Fractaliser appearing, the point of the Fractaliser appears at the tip of the lower back where the spine and the pelvis join. Without this energy the lower coil appears to remain passive and therefore detached and disassociated from the process of real conductivity. This appears to be a way of allowing the grounding of the force of Divine Current through the agency of the body form. Great strength emanated through the lower coil.

Reign of Saturn

In astrology Saturn brings forward the lessons. This energy appears as a field of fiery tumultuous energy – touch it if you dare. It literally is to do with the fire of transformation (it is not a “nice” energy). It is the full burn of the male or father force that is required for the growth beyond the childish disposition. The challenging force although not “nice” is an essential transformative tool for the awakening to conscious life. Meeting the challenge is how we grow.

Servus Fugitivus

(Latin – the literal translation is ‘in flight from God and bondage to ordinary life’.)

This energy refers directly to the fallen state of the born condition where the vision of God has been forgotten. In the witnessing of this energy the vision that was revealed was the human form tied and bound, feet and arms and the head bent down, thus the energy depleted and full of sorrow, a great despair upon the heart as intuition of the loss of God was obvious. Energetically this Vial is directly related to the release of the bondage to servitude.

Spiritus Domini Forebatur Super Aquas

(Latin - the Spirit of God moves on the water)

The Divine enters the world through water. Most of our bodies, most of this earth plane is made up of water, the greatest percent in fact. Within the vision of this energy was a felt deliciousness at a cellular level as the Hand of God could be seen entering from above into the black liquid of this place.

The Dry Way

This may not be as typical an approach within the spiritual traditions but refers to a standing in place, a transformation of mind and awakening as penetrating consciousness, heroic recognition of experience and seeking.

The Lost Word

Something ancient or something yet to be. That which was written and scrolled and coded that held the entirety of the Alchymie of enlightenment was lost, murdered and diced throughout the ages. Held within this Vial is the energetics of allowing, that which is inscribed deep within the psyche to reawaken as real knowledge. Throughout the period of the Middle Ages, Alchemist ‘would-be’s’ searched for ‘the lost word’. They used to use bellows to keep the Alchymeic fires burning.

The Massacre of the Innocents

The energy appears as a journey of facing inner fears. The vision of the mouth of a dragon appears and the requirement to walk toward the horror of what stands before us, feeling and allowing the fear as one approaches such uncertainty and terror. Within the vision, a rope appears as a guiding force and support as one approaches the crises enabling one to endure and pass through the combinatorial moment.

The Wet Way

Within the spiritual traditions there appears several paths or approaches to the awakening process of Divine Realisation. Here the ‘Wet Way’ Alchymeically refers to the emotional transformative process that holds within it emotional devotion or ‘Bhakti form’. A usual approach particularly within the feminine relationships to the Divine (full of tears).

The energetic of these are a power engine driven by the force of the gravitational field around the black hole. These elements beyond a certain point only exist for microseconds. Given that they are at 10⁹ they are useful Alchymeic tools for this whole matter of transformation and transfiguration, unlocking the dark matter of our fallen state.

The Planet Moons.

Earth ₁

This energetic is felt as grounding and rounding out, a fullness of being.

Jove ₁₋₁₆

This energy referring to the sixteen moons of Jupiter appears to be part of the ascending process in transformation of mind. The vision of a circle being pierced by a Fractaliser from below appears to relate to the splitting of the cramp of usual thought. One of the energies of Jupiter is that there has been a storm raging there for over three hundred years – the force and intensity of such a storm is felt to hit the navel, then grounding out. This storm has continued on the basis of a rotating fluid of certain viscosity creating a period doubling effect, which produces the storm. Feeling this energy is an intensity of navel force.

Mars ₁₋₂

The vision held within this energy was an ongoing movement of red, fiery arrows and I understood it to be directly related to anger and conflict

Neptune ₁₋₈

This energy was felt directly in relation to the lower coil, the base of the spine -forcing a strengthening through the spine and a felt impulse for standing upright at last.

Pluto ₁

In the witnessing I understood it energetically to be dealing with death and leaving the gross vehicle or bodily form.

Saturn ₁₋₁₈

Within the vision the swords of fire appeared to enter from above. I understood it as the testing energy for transformation. Use it if you dare.

Uranus _{1 - 15}

The Alchymeic energetics of these combinatorial planets is felt directly to be involved in the transformation of the emotional center.

Energies in relation to the ascension and transfiguring process:

Delta () S_{swan nebula}

Delta () S_{southern cross}

Delta () A_{arcturus}

Delta () O_{orion}

Delta () B_{borealis}

Delta () A_{australis}

Delta () A_{andromeda}

Delta () C_{crab nebula}

Delta () H_{hercules}

Delta () C_{cassiopeia}

Delta () P_{pegasus}

Delta () U_{ursa major}

Delta () O_{ophiuchus}

In witnessing all the above series of energies, specific slices of the brain mind were seen to be activated. Using the individual energies, all of these constellations and nebulae are astrological features that ultimately, from the realized disposition, are part of the expanded brain mind. Thus the Alchymeic Intention is to allow this transfiguring process to be actualized.

Blue Energies

Decompression

This is an energy that has been used since the beginning of this work as part of the fundamental elements of the initial products, and is inherently held within all products. It now has been given to feel as an energy standing alone. It is the gravity field around the black hole.

Deep Red

Another constituent, ‘Deep Red’ penetrates deeply into the form. The vision revealed was a spiral of light entering the coil of life forcing its way down through the form, again the Alchymie, “as above so below”.

Alpha ●

The third in the series is given at 10° and it deals with a process called ‘iteration’ – things within things within things within things, ad infinitum.

The Delta T Series

Delta () T₁₋₁₁

The progression of building blocks. These structures are part of the prima materia for the Alchemist to be able to enter the mortal form or hellish realms. The basic building blocks to begin to allow the formation of the Fractalised form.

Delta T₁ ()

Vision: The blue flames of Alchymeic fire could be seen initiating the transformative process of metal to gold. Hence the basic block of the Alchymeic process of transformation.

Delta T₂ ()

Vision: The increased intensity of fire, within it revealed two crossed swords pointed downwards. The intensity of the fire sufficient to begin the turning process of the swords to the upright position. Hence the beginnings of the transformation of mind within the Alchymeic process.

Delta T₃ ()

Vision: The sunlight above was felt and seen as a force of fire burning from above. Everything below dissolving in the sheer heat - hence the Alchymeic current of the Divine entering from above.

Delta T₄ ()

Vision: The literal smell of chemical burn permeated the field as a shining new surface appeared within the fire - hence the transitioning process.

Delta T₅ ()

Vision: The emergence of the shaped form, under extreme conditions of heat, pressure and light, is beginning to take hold. Hence the beginnings of translation.

Delta T₆ ()

(In relation to inert gases)

Vision: An opening hole began to appear in the centre, it was felt and known as the heart's centre. Hence the Alchymeic transformation of Love itself.

Delta T₇ ()

(Deep Forest)

Vision: Deep below the surface, beyond time and space, the core of primitivism being touched and released from the earth plane itself. Hence the Alchymeic process of movement beyond the mortal form to the eternal form.

Delta T₈ ()

(-- Metals)

Vision: Within the fire new chains of linkage appeared, new strands of DNA beginning to be formed. The enlightened form beginning to be manifest.

Delta T₉ ()

(Salt water)

Vision: The teardrops of the Divine could be felt and seen filling the form and allowing creation. Hence the combining process at a cellular level allowing the enlightened form, the transfiguring process.

The Radiance of the Divine is known and seen in the transfigured enlightened form.

Delta T₁₀ ()

(Chlorophyll)

Seen as the Alchymeic process of nourishment, the Divine Gifts stirring with the blood or life force of the form. Hence the process of conductivity brings with it the combining of Divine nourishment at a cellular level. A profound matter of intimacy.

Delta T₁₁ () (Morphine)

The Alchymeic process of allowing the letting go, the dissolution of separative self. Moving beyond fear to the bliss of non-separation.

Female X Activation

This is particularly in relation to an integrating force, a machine of light. The usual disposition held within the female chromosome structure tends to tear the body apart. The two X's have an active and a passive make up and is a much more complex hybrid than the male Y chromosome. In actual fact the Y chromosome is referred to as 'pathetic', it only has one decent gene in it and that gene is its maleness. The female has to be able to survive without it and that's why it's 'pathetic'. It must be blessed in God Humour.

Fourier Transforms Kinesthetics

Fourier Transforms Touch

Genes Switch Wizard

Good genes switch off as we age. Everything starts to deplete and shut down. The intention held within this energy when activated with Divine Cosmic Intelligence appears to allow the encoding within the body toward mortal form to begin to awaken toward the enlightened form at an encoded level.

Nanobot Regimen

The intention held within this energy is to create nanobots within the body - machines no bigger than atoms that can actually organize atoms and assist in repairing damaged areas.

A Series of Natural Order Register Machines

The energetics held within this Vial is a series of register machines based on the simple rules that mimic lower order computer programs, in that its behaviour gives rise to similar complexities. This energy is lifted to the capacity of calculating every level of complexity within the natural order. A series is to mean an optimum number to mimic the natural order and therefore these register machines are intentionalised to mimic the higher order or ultimate higher order of things. Again all of these energies are working toward the intention of transfiguration.

Plasmenons

Porphyrins Elixir Wizard

The energy of eternal spire of sound and light has been added to this energy as the light activation principle. (Porphyrins are chemicals that are drawn to dysfunctions within the cellular structure and when activated by light they can destroy erratic vascular growth.) So the energetic held within this ‘Wizard’ is to move toward dysfunctional or erratic areas within the philosophical body aiding in restoration to the enlightened form and allowing attention to move beyond identification with the chemistry of stress.

Holographic Brain

Holographic Memory

Holographic Universe

Holomovement

Cohobation (refinement)

This Vial literally relates to a process of stopping energy dissipating. It returns the field of energy to the source and enfolds and combines it, creating a process of distillation and reiteration.

Computational Equivalence Wizard

Stephen Wolfram’s ‘A New Kind of Science’ holds within it the discovery of ‘computational equivalence’, in that he shows that human beings are not special, that there is an ‘equivalence’ between all things, and that the observer and the observed are the same, single cell automaticity – no differentiation. This is an amazing discovery for scientists – who have remained dissociated thus far and analytical in their approach without recognition or feeling toward the oneness of existence. The vibratory current of ‘Computational Equivalence Wizard’ is to allow the energetics of the point of view of non-separation.

The Principal of Computational Equivalence

The following quote is by Dr. Steven Wolfram
Creator of Mathematica
Author of 'A New Kind Of Science'

He wrote in the book 'A New Kind of Science':

"Three centuries ago science was transformed by the dramatic new idea that rules based on mathematical equations could be used to describe the natural world. My purpose in this book is to initiate another such transformation, and to introduce a new kind of science that is based on much more general types of rules that can be embodied in simple programs."

"And on the basis of many discoveries I have been led to a still more sweeping conclusion, summarized in what I call the Principle of Computational Equivalence: that whenever one sees behavior that is not obviously simple-in essentially any system- it can be thought of as corresponding to a computation of equivalent sophistication. And this one very basic principle has a quite unprecedented array of implications for science and scientific thinking."

He came across his first discovery by accident in 1981:

He experimented on a computer by giving it a simple set of instructions for a graphic and seeing what the results were. He named the process Cellular Automata, a simple set of instructions for the placement of either a black or white cell on a grid based on the cells above it. On a scientific level, the patterns created were startling. After further experimentation, he came to several conclusions, the main one being that it was possible to obtain a system of great complexity from a very simple set of rules.

This in itself was interesting, but it led him further. His discoveries have an unprecedented field of relevance, he foresees their implications in the fields of; mathematics, physics, biology, social sciences, computer sciences, philosophy, Technology and even art.

The principle of computational equivalence's basis is that "all processes, whether they are produced by human effort or occur spontaneously in nature, can be viewed as computations". This indicates the growth of a plant to the phenomenon of apparently 'random' weather to the process of natural selection can all be thought of as computations similar to those in the basic system of a computer.

The principle of computational equivalence also contradicts the traditional western thought about humans and their place in nature. Dr Wolfram wrote in his book A New Kind Of Science: "It would be most satisfying if science were to prove that we as humans are in some fundamental way special, and above everything else in the universe. But if one looks at the history of science many of its greatest advances have come precisely from identifying ways in which we are not special."

He goes on to say:

"Four centuries ago we learned for example that our planet does not lie at a special position in the universe. A century and a half ago we learned that there was nothing very special about the origin of our species. And over the past century we have learned that there is nothing special about our various physical, chemical and other constituents.

Yet in western thought there is still a strong belief that there must be something fundamentally special about us. And nowadays the most common assumption is that it must have to do with the level of intelligence or complexity that we exhibit. But building on what I have discovered in this book, the principle of computational equivalence now makes the fairly dramatic statement that even in these ways there is nothing fundamentally special about us."

Another revelation the principle of computational equivalence indicates is that "observers tend to be computationally equivalent to the systems they observe." In a sense, this means that the observer and the observed are not separate and therefore can affect one another.

On the scientific level, these discoveries made by Dr. Wolfram appear to be one of the greatest intellectual revolutions yet. It seems likely they will be ranked with the discovery of gravity, atoms and the theory of relativity.

The vibratory current of computational equivalence wizard is to allow the energetics of the point of view of non-separation.

(talk written by Showme's son Blue Doodaloo Sings)

Enfolded and Unfolded Spaces

These are aspects of the cosmos, which are implicated, that are unexpressed. Some things are explicit and some things are implicit. Some are extended spaces and some are enclosed spaces. For instance the lower coil is explicit - refers to the extended space or the body, unfolded, whereas the upper coil is implicit, it refers to the unextended space or mind, or enfolded. Women represent the lower coil and men the upper coil.

Reconfiguration Within Divine Actuality

Within the vision, exquisite lines of light being formed into intricate machines of shape and light appearing within the brain mind. The energetics held within this Alchymeic Intention is to allow the directional field of intention. All of these present energies are now shifting attention toward transfiguration.

Simple Programs Underlying the Complexity of the Natural Order Wizard

Simple programs are better in describing the structure of nature than mathematical programs, hence this energy is again penetrating and allowing the structure of nature to be witnessed and understood, and thus passed through. Another energy in relation to the ascending process found within the Fourth Pack.

Quantum Entanglement

A continuum in relation to the theory of quantum gravity, this energetic relates to the existence of strong and weak forces. Its purpose is for transformation at a subatomic level in order to lift everything out of the density so that this entire vision can be turned ultimately to energy only, unnoticed in the Radiance of Only God.

Quantum Paradox Wizard

Within the quantum theory there are anomalies – such as an electron can be in two places at once, forces can go anti-clockwise and clockwise at the same time, and projected thought can change an outcome. So energetically this ‘Wizard’ allows attention to be lifted to the freer form beyond the observed and the fixed position, thus allowing a more fluid movement within consciousness.

Quantum Super Symmetry

This energetic refers to the fact that the strong forces referred to above have a symmetrical force 50% less, that is half its strength. So in this context, the differential between the old forms and the new forms has half the energy of radiance than the new enlightened form, which struggles to take hold within the physics of this place at this time. So this Vial is to assist in that quantum leap.

Quark Matter

The vision appears to be a sticky substance made up of an infinite number of shapes that are slow in movement, and appear when permeated with light to be able to store it. It seemed fluorescent.

Quark Matter And Porphyrins Elixir Wizard

Reconciliation of Quantum Gravity and Celestial Gravity

Within the quantum theory there starts to appear hints of the existence of quantum gravity. This only occurs in the macro world, not in the astronomical world. The celestial gravity, which is the gravity of our world and planets and solar system therefore resting in the Einstein relativity field, is at loggerheads with the quantum theorems. At the end of the debate, there really is no true recognition of what gravity is. They need reconciliation between these two theorems. Hence this energetic is to allow the dissolution of separation, which we perceive as the gross and subtle realms, the macro and micro realms of existence.

Armageddon Is At Hand

Between a Rock and a Hard Place

Earth Works

To do with all of the phenomena that can be observed within the earth plane. Earthquakes, tidal waves, electric storms, geothermal, geo triplet. The energetic resource of this Vial is felt in relation to the body.

Globular Clusters and Blue Galaxies

As the witnessing began the limitations of the brain started to explode out. In exploding the usual mind this unlocks and penetrates the illusion that is held within this place. Using the human instrument for the entry of the Divine Current the way is made available to create sanctuary and affect this place at an energetic level. The more capacity one has in allowing this process of conductivity the more capacity one has in the creative manifestation of what is required to create Ultima Thule here on Earth. Ultimately this place must yield to the Divine.

Halo

The vision appeared that the usual structure of mindedness has a shaped pressure almost like a Statue of Liberty crown around the brain mind. This energy is allowing that cramped energy to be released and allow the integration.

Pursuing the Makers of The Chess Players x10 $\rightarrow \infty$

Sun Works

Energetically this Vial is to do with all phenomena that can be observed about the sun. Sun spots, sun gases, sun forces, solar rotation etc. The Alchymie of using these, an energetic resource, in held within the intention of this Vial.

Tell Me All

Hold this energy and ask the question, allow the outcome to be revealed through Divine Grace.

The Genesis of Language

A Billion Years Slow Glass

A Matter of Scale

This energy is to do with the scaling of phenomena and events in relation to the human form, thus dinosaurs have gone because they don't fit into our scale, and thank God spiders aren't ten foot wide. It is a matter of scale. Using this energy is allowing us to bring everything into right relationship.

Caduceus

The entwinement of the serpents - representing the reawakening of the kundalini, the wings at the head resurrecting the brain to its transfigured state as Consciousness. The actual symbols of entwinement are the lunar and solar subtle nerves, which are seen to exist either side of the spinal column, twisting around the spine, one cold and one hot. They culminate in the Wings of Mercury at the head. This is the actual symbol of the transfigured state. In witnessing this current, the energy appears to move out through the coccyx bone, infinitely below, and up through the spinal cord, through the brain stem and infinitely above. It appears to be the Alchymeic current of 'as above so below' where heaven and earth dissolve beyond all duality and thus dissolve all separation. The 'Caduceus' appears to be the initial healing force of the kundalini current. It appears to empower the navel, thus allowing the fullness of the upright position to awaken to the fifth stage of Realisation. Hence the use of this energy can be felt as the nerve nectar of Infinite Current, where true healing becomes blessedness - the transfiguration process. In this awakened condition then, one becomes alive as all intuited knowledge and awakens as a true agency of Divine influence and Presence.

Jessa O'My Heart was to ask me to witness through 'Tell Me All' as to how and why Hermes used this symbol and as to how and why it became the medical model. The vision was given of a hand moving two strands of metal, twisting them back and forth, over a flame. Whilst in the gross physical, the one playing with these two strands of metal was obviously abiding in the Prior Condition, reading from a transcendental point of view, as though the experience itself was secondary to the recognition of the kundalini within his own form - giving him completion of the actual awakening process in perfect summary. To the further question it appears to be a state of envy that became the raison d'être for using this symbol for allopathic pursuers from the time of Hermes. Hermes appears to have had a position of respect and power for actual healing capacity - the reverse of the present state of such a one, which was his own prophecy.

Cloak of Doubt

The vision in the witnessing of this energy was literally seeing a lock and key that had been totally rusted over and was felt to be a part of the brain mind that had never been activated, as though the initial gift was given but had never been used through lifetimes of identification with doubt of love. In witnessing and allowing this energy within my own form I felt a great relief of pressure releasing from the brain and a corridor appeared, a passage availed itself between Heaven and Earth – as above so below. I could witness that the 'Cloak of Doubt' literally existed as a structure of limitation held within this cosmology and therefore all souls identifying with that allowed the limitation of that point of view to become inherent in the born condition. We become what we meditate on. Hence the universal disease of doubt becomes the common principle or the communicated principle.

Divine Cosmic Actuality Intelligence

In the vision - felt the instant expanse of the brain mind, clouds of nebula appeared, words appearing and disappearing without lower recognition. There was an understanding that real intelligence and real knowing was being activated.

Mahamudra Meditation

Its Alchymeic definition, at its fullest, holds the six yoga's, the four lights, and the five essences. These energies are defined from Tibetan manuscripts that were preserving the hidden knowledge of wisdom before the Chinese communists destroyed Tibet. No one within the Western culture could attain Divine Enlightenment through the disciplined life that this process demanded. It is beyond our capacity. The Alchymeic Intention, therefore, is to allow us to feel the extraordinary outcome of such a path.

Scales of Justice

This is energetically alchemically intending to bring balance. Allowing justice to be understood allows the heart form to overwhelm the rational mind.

Splitting the Atom of the Personality

(n=1-infinity)
ngeV

To split the atom of the personality is equivalent to an atomic explosion. This event occurs at the point of enlightenment or Divine Self Realization. It is coincident with between one and one to infinity giga electron volts. Because this matter is Divine Radiance there is an inbuilt mechanism within the universe that prevents it from being destroyed by such a moment. In actual fact the energy of bliss is felt and understood and released.

The Crux

This energy refers to the point at which there is an unleashing of the full potential of any aspect of the product. It encompasses all missing components untouched until now. In other words, the time and adaptation of this place to receive this amount of force is now sufficient to allow it. The vision - two Fractalisers appeared, their apex crossing to allow a diamond shape, the tip of the lower pyramid the point of which rests at the heart, the tip of the inverted pyramid the point of which rests at the navel, the diamond of the crossed apexes abiding over the solar plexus.

The Heart's Code

Seen as a combinatorial lock intricately Divinely placed within the right side of the Heart. The code of which directly relates to the awakening of the three aspects of 'Heart-knowing' or the realised condition of Heart awakening. The unlocking or awakening to perfect realization allows for the spilling of Heart current into the world.

The Key

Again, one larger Fractaliser appears upright, the apex of which enters through the brain stem and rests in the brain core, the function of which appears to be the awakening of the brain mind, radiant circles of light appearing around and beyond the apex emanating from the piercing of the brain.

Together, 'The Crux' and 'The Key' hold the key for unlocking the enlightened form as whole body enlightenment. These energies hold the intention of the possibility of allowing the literal whole body incarnation of enlightened form. They appear as the evolutionary possibility of humankind – the next stage of human evolution. A possibility held within every human soul but not allowed due to the identification with the usual destiny.

Unlocking the Secret Inner Chambers of the Brain

In witnessing this energy a vision appeared of chambers of light hidden deep within the brain itself. Within these chambers appeared a heart-shaped space and within this space buds within buds were being forced to flower and flower and flower, unlocking prior wisdom resonant and yet untouched within the human form. Try using this energy with 'Divine Cosmic Actuality Intelligence', 'Reconfiguration Within Divine Actuality' and 'Natural Order Register Machines'.

Gravity Matrix

‘Gravity’ is a key aspect in the matter of incarnation. The word ‘Grave’ is held within it. With each spin around the sun, we are becoming a day older, heading toward the ‘grave’ (thus death and mortality are the end point of this continual spin of existence). ‘Gravity’ is locked within every aspect of our involvement in human existence. It weighs upon us, eventually crushes us, bends us over and we die.

Thus ‘Gravity Healing’ is lifting us above all that is crushing and beyond the density weaved by the cycle. Without help individuals find it profoundly difficult to know their relationship to the Divine. Hence at this time God is coming to mankind, as mankind can no longer come to God. As at this time humanity has fallen toward the hell worlds.

Ultimately, the gravitational pull of existence is so intense around the terminal point of the Universe, that Light is completely excluded and we are drawn into all of the ‘Gravity’ as an entrapment. Hence, we witness the ‘Gravity’ of our heartlessness and loveless ness, which perfectly coincides with the ‘gravity’ of this earthly vision. We sink down into more dense states. The more gravity, the denser, the more the gravitational pull in excluding the Light.

This is the only place within the Universe where there is Lawfulness. Without lawfulness, there would be no consequence, as in the subtle realms. With consequence there is feedback. Through Divine Grace there will always be an Enlightened Being appear at any one time, to come to show the way. Without the appearance of Enlightened Beings, this realm would continually wind toward hellish realms.

They come to reveal the Truth to mankind. Their appearance prevents the imploding of this realm into darkness. Each teacher comes unfolding a little of the whole process, so that this place does not fall into the hellish realms. But at this time, the degree of turning away from God has brought a critical point that has now forced God to come to mankind.

Gravity Matrix One

GRAVITY IN RELATION TO THE ATOMIC STRUCTURE

In the Vision it could be seen that this energy was about Light penetrating the created structure over time. The first structure to be revealed here is the beginning of separation from God. It almost appears mechanical in nature (the atom itself is revealed and the projection of rigidity appears to be held within the atomic structure - that is the very structure itself of the atom, the nucleus, the neutron, the proton and the electron appears to be held in such fixity due to this contraction away from God.) In witnessing G1 entering it is felt as an expansion and a contraction at a cellular level. As the attraction/repulsion forces are broken down the Light ultimately appears to outshine and dissolve all separate structure, and there is a felt dissolution into Radiance.

Gravity Matrix Two

GRAVITY IN RELATION TO THE BRAIN

G2 is felt as a great force entering the brain. A larger sense of expanding/contracting the musculature of the brain is experienced. The Vision was given of the brain opening as a lotus shaped structure and the Divine hand emerging, holding the Alchymeic stone – thus the beginnings of the flowering of higher mind.

Gravity Matrix Three

GRAVITY IN RELATION TO THE STARS

In receiving G3 the Vision was given of an embryo unfolding through the brain. As the brain unfolded back the embryo grew into the fullness of the Being we would appear as in Truth - the enlightened disposition - and attention arose Infinitely above.

Gravity Matrix Four

GRAVITY IN RELATION TO THE BLACK HOLE

G4 was felt on the right side of the Heart, the point on the body where the transcendental meets the cosmos in mysterious association. It is the terminal point of the Universe, the point at which the Universe comes to an end. An infinite depth of wonder awakens.

Gravity Matrix Five

GRAVITY IN RELATION TO THE PSYCHE

The Psyche produces the usual destiny. One is identified with the usual destiny, the mortal being. In the witnessing as G5 enters the form there appears to be the dissolution of creating the usual destiny, and thus allowing one to fall into the identification with the Mystery itself. The incarnating Divine personality is allowed to enter overwhelming the frontal personality and thus allowing the beginning of something greater.

Gravity Matrix Six

GRAVITY IN RELATION TO MORTALITY & DECAY

Decay is all levels of decay, which works against the living principle. Gravity interacts with bringing on that depth of decay factor in the usual disposition, in which ‘Projection of Death’ and ‘Body Plaques As Death’ are a residual implication of that identification or forgetting. G6 begins to allow the dissolution of this process of embedded decay of the usual one.

Gravity Matrix Seven

GRAVITY IN RELATION TO BIRTH

The Energy intensely gathers and prepares to narrow down in order to descend into mortal form. G7 allows the process of conscious involvement in the witnessing of such a process. Therefore it is lifted from unconscious to conscious participation. The intention held within this current is to awaken to the prior disposition of witness consciousness thus liberating attention from all that which is embedded below consciousness that is the usual destiny.

Gravity Matrix Eight

KEYHOLE GRAVITY

The felt response to G8 - the heart breaks open. In the Vision the picture of the Hanged Man falls to Earth. In this Vision the position of falling is 'head first'. The entry of G8 reveals the turn about and the man is returned to the upright position and thus allowed to engage the process of Resurrection.

Gravity Matrix Nine

GRAVITY IN RELATION TO EMOTIONAL INTERACTION

Within the Vision the usual fall from Grace thus the rebirth is to be revealed in association or drawn once more again into unfinished matters - hence the emotional ties that have continued to re-instigate levels of bondage. G9 entering this association is seen to allow the conversion process within relationship thus allowing a level of liberation, salvation and a demonstration of release from the usual bondage the ordinary relational life holds.

Gravity Matrix Ten

GRAVITY IN COHERANT INERTIA

There exists a tendency for the mortal structure to cling together as one mass. With 6 billion people all the energy is held and absorbed and nothing is felt. e.g. in cutting a pumpkin, the first cut is very difficult, but as you go on - the inertial quality becomes easier. It is easier to cut an eighth of a pumpkin than the whole mass. This energy therefore is about splitting you away from the weight of the whole and allowing you to feel as it is without you being absorbed into the whole mass.

Gravity Matrix Eleven

GRAVITY ASSOCIATED WITH RELEASE OF BEING DISSOLVED BEYOND THE ELEMENTS - earth, air, fire, and water.

This is in relation to dropping the body and allowing the passage of release to be benign without the weight identification with mortal form holding you back.

Gravity Matrix Twelve

GRAVITY IN RELATION TO COMPLIANCE

This is in relation to co-operation and yielding, allowing perfect submission in order to be made capable of reception and release.

Gravity Matrix Thirteen

QUANTUM GRAVITY

This is relation to the 'Gravity Matrix' Series refers to the quantum world and it's implications.

Hermetica

This Energy derives its name from a book of the same title. The book 'Hermetica' is a translation by Brian P. Copenhauer (pub. Cambridge University Press) of the ancient text 'Corpus Hermeticum'. 'Corpus Hermeticum' was written by HERMES TRISMIGISTUS - the greatest Alchemist and father of Hermetic Science. He was also known by his Egyptian name - 'Thoth' (thrice blessed) and his Greek name 'Mercury' (winged messenger of the Gods) Hermes was the father of all writing. He wrote the first books on: philosophy, theology, astrology and medicine His symbol was the Caduceus - the symbol of modern day medicine. 'Corpus Hermeticum' is the body of Hermetic Science that defines the cosmos as a unity - that all parts are interdependent therefore one is the reflection of the other. Within the 18 parts to this text lies the wisdom of the entire creative process of existence. It describes the Radiant Light as God Life and as Real God or the father out of whom comes the son. Out of the son comes the multitude of beings that make up the cosmic display of this existence.

'Corpus Hermeticum' describes the creation of form. Out of the Light these forms descend into the density of lower life or natural existence (Earth, Fire, Water). Identification becomes bound to this mortal structure, thus forgetting the Vision of God. This in turn, becoming bound by that which is limited and forgetting our true identification with that which is Eternal. Hence we endure the karma of our forgetting and suffer the lessons of Existence. Until at last we are, through Grace, brought to Remembrance, where the egoic structure begins to be broken open and we learn the process of Receptivity and Yielding. This then, allows a return of Attention to that which is beyond this moment of life and death, and thus the dissolution of attention itself. At this point the Heart Remembers that Love is Greater than fear and awakens on the Right side of the Heart (causal structure). This enables the Resurrection as Consciousness to occur - returning us to our true condition – where the true form of Healing is beyond mere flesh. The true essence of the Caduceus is returned to its fullness - a place where real medicine takes hold. This coincides with a moving from the chemistry of stress to the Chemistry of Enlightenment reflected in the symbol of the Caduceus. This Truth is the Essence of the Energy 'Hermetica' and its 18 Components that occur and are given as part of the Forth Threshold Pack Caduceus.
